

POETRY.

THE UNWEDDED ONE.

BY JOHN FRANCIS.

It's very pleasant, certainly,
To laugh, and smile, and talk;
And I must say, by night or day,
I love a lonely walk;
And flirting, oh! I love to flirt;
And dancing's very pleasant;
And how I dote on singing, too,
When but the loved is present!
One looked so very plaintively,
While warbling forth "We met;"
But what, alas! oh! what's the use?
I am not married yet!

What is the aim of all your lives?
A settlement and marriage;
Some people think they can't, but I
Would do without a carriage.
Oh, Hymen! god of endless joy;
Oh, Hymen! god of bliss!
It's really very, very hard,
That I am still a miss.
My heart is filled with bitter sighs,
My gowns with tears are wet;
In vain I sigh—in vain I cry;
I am not married yet!

And why not? shame upon the age,
Poor! avaricious! mean!
I would not wed for paltry gold!
No! not to be a queen,
Yet ye "creation's lords" look down
On us—because we're poor;
And coldly pass the landless by:
It's not my fault I'm sure!
Cold hearted are ye all—a base
And mercenary set;
But flatter not yourselves, for I—
I will be married yet!

CELEBRATION AT LINCOLNTON.

Mr. Editor.—I send you the proceedings of the celebration of the 4th of July, at this place. You will be surprised to see so many toasts in favor of Van Buren. There were TWELVE REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS seated at the head of the table, headed by JOHN WILFONG, our Elector. They were all for Van Buren. There were about 60 partook of the dinner, and out of that number there were but 10 or 12 White men.

Lincolnton, July 7, 1836.
The procession was formed at the Court House, and marched to the Grove, where the Declaration of Independence was read by Mr. Wallace, and a very appropriate Oration was delivered by Mr. Leonard E. Thompson; after which the procession was again formed, and marched to the village and partook of a dinner. After the cloth was removed, the following toasts were drank.

1st. The day, we celebrate—May that sun, which for sixty years has poured forth its vivifying rays on the plains of Independent America, continue, in the progress of its annual revolutions, to rekindle the glory of '76, until his beams shall be darkened by the decay of universal nature; 'till he himself shall be wrapt in the pall of time, and nature's self shall be no more.

2d. The Union of the States—May the banner of our country continue to wave, with its lustre untarnished, without a stripe erased or a star obliterated, to the remotest time; and may the duration of our Union be commensurate with the duration of the world.

3d. The memory of WASHINGTON.—May its salutary advice stand as a beacon to his countrymen, through all ages to come.

4th. The President of the United States.—With the star of liberty for his beacon, he has moved through political life, untainted by corruption, with credit to himself and honor to his country.

5th. The freedom of the Press—Without which no republican form of Government will stand.

6th. Constitution of the United States—Preserve it inviolate and the Union is safe.

7th. North-Carolina—Her glory consists in the honesty of her citizens.

8th. John Marshall—His life an example to all; his death a loss to his country.

9th. Our native land; 'tis freedoms home.

10th. Let the world understand that the maxim of the American diplomacy is to "ask for nothing but what is just and submit to nothing that is unjust."

11th. The fair of our land—Who rule the destinies of the world: notwithstanding the vain boasting of the sterner sex:

Women be wise and we'll adore you;
Smile and a world is weak before you.

VOLUNTEERS.

By John Wilfong, (President of the day and a soldier of the revolution) The White Sun at Washington, is eclipsed at mid-day; its votaries will be groping in the dark on the evening of December next.

By Peter Eddleman, (A soldier of the revolution) Martin Van Buren, may be our next President.

By Abraham Forney, (A soldier of the revolution) The prosperous condition of our beloved country, and Jackson's Administration.

By Robison Goodwin, (A soldier of the revolution) The remembrance of Geo. Washington; Those who fought with him never can forget him.

By Joseph Morris, (A soldier of the revolution) Marquis De Lafayette—The friend and ally of Washington.

By Frederick Lineberger, (A soldier of the revolution) Jackson and Van Buren—We are pleased with the administration of the former; we will continue it in the latter.

By Miles W. Abernethy, President, Vice President, and Marshals of the day.

By Marcus L. Hoke, (A true Orator and reader of the day).

By Curtis Leonard, Green, Gates and Puman.

By M. W. Abernethy, (Our distinguished guests of the revolution; a cheerful glass to their health; may many and happy be their days).

By L. E. Thompson, (A spirit of inquiry and an arm of strength—through the former our fathers saw the oppression which they suffered; in the latter they found redress).

By J. A. Wallace, (General Lafayette—The patriot, the hero, the Statesman; his exploits stand unrivalled, even in the legends of chivalry, and his virtue unsurpassed in the fictions of romance; long may his memory be cherished by the friends of republican institutions).

By Capt. James Hottelaw, (The Hon. H. W. Conner, (Honest and attentive; while pursuing his present political course, may he long be our representative).

By Col. Daniel Seagle, (Andrew Jackson, The statesman, the patriot, and the soldier—the world cannot produce his superior).

By Maj. John Michaels, (Martin Van Buren—a pattern of political consistency; the stratagems of his enemies only serve to illustrate his character).

By Turner M. Abernethy, (The Lincoln fair sex—The melody of their voices more delightful to the ear than the tuneful harp of Orpheus; they are the prettiest flowers that deck the mead or charm the summer day).

By Marcus L. Hoke, (The President of the United States—his victory over the French and the opposition, are not only an honor to himself but to his country).

By William W. Monday, (The liberties of the American people may they continue firm and secure as long as time shall endure).

By Daniel F. Ramsour, (May the citizens of Lincoln county tell, by the ballot boxes, that the right of instructions must be obeyed).

By Benjamin Norris, (May brave and chivalric Texas, prosper in her undertaking, and again demonstrate to the world that man is capable of self-government).

By Moses Martin, (General Houston and Texian Liberty).

By Jacob A. Ramsour, (Our former noble hearted citizen, Col. James P. Henderson; may his chivalric enterprise in behalf of Texas, be crowned with that success which it merits).

By Willard Boyden, (Van Buren, the Abolitionist, may he never rule our nation).

By Marcus L. Hoke, (Martin Van Buren—his casting vote in the Senate of the United States, on the Abolition Question, is enough to show every honest politician that he is "with us.")

By Lewis P. Rodrick, (Short shoes and long corns to the enemies of Martin Van Buren).

By Lawson Ristley, (Martin Van Buren—"an honest man the noblest work of God.")

By Capt. Will Slade, (Martin Van Buren—may he be our next President, and show to his political opponents that he will carry out the measures of this glorious administration).

By A. H. Porter, (Hugh L. White—an honest and consistent statesman, against whose character, the breath of slander never blew until it became the interest of the interested party to impeach him for political effect).

By Miles W. Abernethy, Esq., (The opposition, a frustration to their councils, and complete sun-setting to the combination and intrigues of the mongrel and motley crew, compound of Whig, White, Harrison, Webster, Clay, Bank, Tariff, a-politists, odds and ends of all parties, opposed to Martin Van Buren).

By William W. Monday, (The doctrines of Federalism, the doctrines of Nullification, and the doctrines of Abolitionism, may they be sunk deep in the sea of oblivion, never to rise again to disturb the Union).

By Maj. John H. Harry, (Martin Van Buren and Col. Richard M. Johnson, the Democratic candidates for President and Vice President; they believe in the right of instruction; are opposed to monopolies and exclusive privileges; strict constructionists of the Federal Constitution).

By John M. Butts, (May the friends of Hugh L. White be successful in all their undertakings).

By Felix M. Abernethy, (Martin Van Buren, the brightest constellation that now shines in our political zodiac; may the republicans hail him as the luminary that may light us on to future glory).

By Jacob A. Ramsour, (Judge Mangum—Our next August Election will again tell him that the right of instruction is truly republican).

By B. M. Edney, (By request) The Militia and Cavalry; the bulwark of our liberty and our hope in the day of trial; let every man do his duty).

By John F. Hoke, (May our flag ride peaceably over every ocean and inlet; may impartiality guide the hand of justice, and success wield the sword of war).

By J. J. Summy, (May the brilliancy of the sun shine upon Hugh L. White, as candidate for the next President).

By Franklin A. Hoke, (Martin Van Buren—the pride of New York, the glory of his country, and the man of the people).

By A. H. Porter, (Richard Dobbs Spaight—the man who has dared to trample on the rights of the free people of a Congressional District, and say to them you shall not have a representative in Congress; may he meet the reward which is due to him from an indignant people; who know their rights and knowing dare maintain them).

By Mr. Jonas Rudisill, (Richard D. Spaight Governor of North Carolina—a true and consistent republican; let him do right or wrong the opposition will find fault).

By Ephraim Money, (His Excellency Richard D. Spaight—chief plowman of the State; he turns his furrows handsomely, and looks well to the republican interest.

By John Finger, (The mongrel breed—a mixture of Bankism and Nullification; our next Election will tell them that it will not answer a republican people).

By A. Robinson, (To the Ladies of Lincolnton, a happy marriage, and Hugh L. White, the next President).

By Maj. John H. Harry, (The fair sex—the only endurable aristocracy that elect without votes, govern without laws, decide without appeal, and are never in the wrong).

By E. A. Hooper, (R. M. Johnson, the true patriot of Kentucky).

By Col. Daniel Seagle, (The bone and sinew, of our country; by their industry honesty and good sense, our government is sustained).

By John Michael, (Our absent friends).

By Capt. Will Slade, (Our Board—Its elegance and variety does honor to the person who prepared it—he has our hearty thanks).

By Emard Osburn, (May Martin Van Buren be as successful at the next Presidential Election, as Andrew Jackson was at the battle of Orleans).

Mr. Jacob Baker of Blue Rock township, Ohio, in consequence of a quarrel with the members of his church, went home and shot himself through the body with a rifle.

A child a few days old was found buried in the cellar of 650 Water street, where its father had deposited it to save the funeral fees.

BECKWITH'S ANTI-DISPETIC PILLS.

FOR the cure of almost every variety of functional disorders of the Stomach, Bowels, Liver and Spleen; such as heart burn, acid eructation, nausea, head-ache, pain and distention of the stomach and bowels, incipient diarrhoea, colic, flatulence, habitual constiveness, loss of appetite, sick head-ache, sea-sickness, &c. &c. They are a safe and comfortable aperient for females during pregnancy and subsequent confinement, relieving sickness at the stomach, head-ache, heart-burn and many of the incidental nervous affections. Literary men, students and most other persons of sedentary habits, find them very convenient. Those who indulge too freely in the pleasures of the Table, find speedy relief from the sense of oppression and distention which follow, by taking the Pills. As a dinner Pill they are invaluable. Those who are drinking mineral waters, and particularly those from southern climates and ague and fever districts, will find them a valuable adjunct. Those who are exposed to the vicissitudes of weather, on voyages or journeys, can take them at all times with perfect safety. In full doses, they are a highly efficacious and safe Anti-Bilious Medicine. They seldom or never produce sickness at the stomach or griping.

Their efficacy is strongly attested by certificates from the following gentlemen, viz:

Bishop Ives, Rev. Dr. McPheeters, Rev. G. W. Freeman, Rev. R. T. Blake, Geo. Iredell, Hon. Henry Potter, Hon. G. E. Badger, Hon. Richard Hines, Thos. P. Devereux, Esq. Professor Anderson, Will. Hill, Esq. Secretary of State, Will. S. Moon, Esq. late Treasurer, Jas. Grant, Esq. late Comptroller, W. R. Gates, Esq. of the Register, Capt. Guion, Guion's Hotel, Dr. R. C. Bond, Dr. E. Crosby, Dr. J. Y. Young, &c. Ample Directions accompany each Box.

These Pills are for sale, by appointment, in almost every Town in the United States, and Wholesale and Retail by the Subscribers, to whom applications may be made for Agencies.

D. PRATT'S Artificial Nipple Shield.

FOR the prevention and cure of Sore Nipples. The following highly respectable certificates are deemed a sufficient recommendation for those who are afflicted in this manner, to try them.

From Doctor Wm. P. Dewees, late Professor of Obstetrics, in the Medical University of Philadelphia:

Doct. ELIJAH PRATT:

DEAR SIR: As I feel it a matter of much public importance, to possess a means of lessening the terrible sufferings from sore Nipples, I have much pleasure in being able to say, that the "Shield" you offer for the preventing and the cure of this malady, is better adapted to the purpose than any I have heretofore seen. In the two or three instances I have known them to be used, much satisfaction has been expressed; and I have no hesitation to believe it will generally succeed: I am so well persuaded of this, at this moment, that I cannot forbear to express a wish that our city, through the various Apothecaries, may be supplied with them. I am yours, &c.

M. P. DEWEES, M. D.

Philadelphia, Jan. 13, 1834.

From Dr. Thomas Seawall, Professor of Anatomy and Physiology, Columbia College, District of Columbia:

WASHINGTON CITY, 4TH FEB., 1834

Having examined Dr. Pratt's newly invented Nipple Shields, and witnessed its practical application, among my patients, I take great pleasure in recommending it as decidedly superior to anything previously known. It constitutes a perfect remedy for that distressing malady, Sore Nipples; a disease which so frequently afflicts young women.
